The Gibbs Design Activism Awards (GDAA) is a new grant initiative that supports student-led, design and research projects that critically engage topics of community, social, and economic concern within the built environment—at Gibbs College, on the OU Campus, and across Oklahoma.

Projects can address questions of contentious politics and competing identities, such as religion and ideology, disability, and Tribal histories. Topics might include but are not limited to, environmental and restorative justice, health and medical disparities, housing and open space, transportation, food ways and security, technology, education, etc.

WHO CAN APPLY

- 3rd and 4th-year students in 5-year UG programs
- 3rd-year students in 4-year UG programs
- All graduate students, except those in their final year (selected projects will commence Fall 2022)
- Individual and team proposals are welcome

WHEN TO APPLY

- Deadline: April 22, 2022
- Info workshops will be on the following dates:
  - Workshop 1: March 28, noon in Gould Hall Gallery (lunch provided)
  - Workshop 2: April 11, noon via Zoom

HOW TO APPLY

- Complete the application on the website below
- Proposals need to list a Gibbs College faculty sponsor
- Awards announced: May 9, 2022

The GDAA is made possible by support from The Institute for Community and Society Transformation and The Institute for Quality Communities

For more info go to architecture.ou.edu/gdauu or email Wanda Katja Liebermann: wkliebermann@ou.edu